

Alexandria Gazette

WEDNESDAY EVENING, JANUARY 25

According to the published census bulletins there are 122,675,200,000 feet of merchantable pine lumber in the States of Alabama, Mississippi and Texas, enough to supply the demand of the whole country for at least sixty years. On the other hand Minnesota, which is one of the most important lumber States in the North, has only 6,100,000,000 feet of this timber. The total cut in the three Southern States amounted in 1880 to 638,541,000 feet, or about one half of one per cent, considerably less than the annual growth of the forest.

CENTRE SHOT.—That the Virginia republicans are about to turn half a million dollars realized from the sale of the State's interest in a railroad over to the common school fund reads very prettily to the newspapers but it will strike some persons that it would be better to apply any sum of money to the State treasury to the payment of the public debt. Justice ought to go before generosity.—Phil. Record.

According to the British statistics the enormous number of two thousand and thirty-nine shipwrecks took place throughout the world in 1881, or, on an average, six a day. The value of the property lost is estimated at one thousand four hundred million dollars. This was an increase of three hundred and fifty-nine vessels over 1880 and of about five hundred million dollars in property.
